

Dear Jessica June Children's Cancer Foundation,

Sebastiana is an 18-month-old little girl who was diagnosed with medulloblastoma in July 2020, currently being treated at Nicklaus Children's Hospital. Shortly after her parents witnessed her take her first steps, Sebastiana stopped walking and talking as she did before. They knew something was horribly wrong and a brain tumor was soon discovered. Their lives completely changed, as Sebastiana and her mother would have to travel 2 hours from their home and spend months in the hospital to get her the treatment she needs.

Her father and 8-year-old sister, now miles apart, are struggling to cope with the diagnosis and having trouble making ends meet. Sebastiana's parents are humble people working laborious jobs for pennies on the dollar. The loss of mother's income left them unable to pay their rent or even secure meals at times, causing great stress to this family. Father recently also suffered an injury, which did not allow him to work for several weeks. With almost no family to offer support, the pressures continue to mount. To add, Sebastiana's family of 4 lives in a single bedroom they rent inside a home where she is exposed to many other residents – a home not at all suitable for Sebastiana's condition.

We would like to see Sebastiana in a place conducive to her healing, as well as assist this family in having food on their table every night. It truly breaks our hearts to know what this family is going through. Her end to treatment is still many months away with more chemotherapy and three transplants ahead of her. We want the family to be able to focus only on getting Sebastiana cancer-free. We kindly ask you to open your hearts to helping Sebastiana and her family during this incredibly difficult journey.

Warmly,

Tiffany Gallart, MSW, RCSWI

Pediatric Oncology Social Worker, Nicklaus Children's Hospital