

Date: October 31, 2015

RE: Jorge De Leon

DOB: 9/20/2002

MR: 60139496

DX: Coagulopathy; Dysfunction of right cardiac ventricle; Fever presenting with conditions classified elsewhere; AKI (acute kidney injury); AML (acute myeloid leukemia) in relapse; Hyperleukocytosis; Acute respiratory failure with hypoxemia; Tumor lysis syndrome following antineoplastic drug therapy

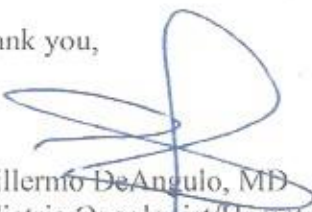

Dear Jessica June:

Jorge is a 13 year old male, originally from Cuba. He was diagnosed about two years after the family arrived. Mom was working before the diagnosis, as a house keeper, at the Donald Trump Hotel in Doral.

The patient has recently experienced a relapse and Jorge's body is experiencing a condition known as tumor lysis. This happens when the cancer cells re-produce, rapidly, and take over the normal function of the patient's body. At this present time the patient is, intubated, in the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit.

The family could really use some help with their current situation. Food becomes very expensive, in the hospital. Please help this family keep fighting. They welcome your prayers and your fiscal contributions.

Thank you,

Guillermo DeAngulo, MD
Pediatric Oncologist/Hematologist
Nicklaus Children's Hospital

Amanda K. Treadwell, MSW
Pediatric Social Worker
Hematology/Oncology